

Functionalities that were implemented were applying different filters to an image when certain keys are pressed. On interesting feature that was implemented was the Edge detection. In this case I gave the picture a new set of colors that make it look at it was glowing or neon colors.